

A VOTE FOR PHILIPP IS A VOTE FOR KAREL

Will you have, for governor, John J. Blaine, or John C. Karel?

Emanuel Philipp IS OUT OF THE RACE.

The writer has just returned from a trip through Madison, Milwaukee and other cities. By every test of strength, through the emanations of every political headquarters, from the lips of every unbiased election expert, the message is EMPHATIC that PHILIPP IS BEATEN.

The chairman of the democratic state central committee, Karel's committee, has officially announced that "PHILIPP IS OUT OF THE RACE. * * * WE ARE PAYING NO MORE ATTENTION TO PHILIPP."

Karel has quit fighting Philipp; he is fighting BLAINE. The race is between BLAINE and KAREL.

It is common gossip that the stalwart republican business crowd in Milwaukee, who were supporting Philipp, have sent word to the stalwarts over the state to DROP PHILIPP and vote for KAREL.

The answer is for all who do not want Karel elected to DROP PHILIPP and vote for BLAINE.

Blaine is a splendid type. He has had a good schooling in experience. He is "RIGHT." His Scotch father gave him rugged fighting qualities; his Norwegian mother gave him the spirit of the Vikings and the mobility of thought and quickness of grasp that characterize the Scandinavian people. The two, welded in Americanism, gave him the American initiative, independence and resource. He's the "RIGHT KIND OF MAN."

Exposed by his record, abandoned by his reactionary supporters who have gone over to Karel, PHILIPP STANDS ON THE EVE OF ELECTION A DESERTED AND DEFEATED MAN. As sure as inexorable Fate, the next governor of Wisconsin will be BLAINE or KAREL.

Tell it from the housetops!

Scream it across the hills and valleys of Wisconsin:

"A Vote for PHILIPP is a vote for KAREL!"

FRENCH OFFICIALS CLAIM ALLIES ARE WINNING VICTORY IN NORTHERN FIGHT

Say German Activity Is to Cover General Withdrawal to New Battle Lines in Rear

PARIS AGAIN TO BE CAPITAL

Plans Under Way to Bring Government Headquarters Back from Bordeaux by Nov. 20

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Although military officials here declare that the allies are gaining a notable victory in the north, the official claims are couched in most guarded language. It is admitted that in severe fighting yesterday at various points along the 200 mile line of battle, there were alternative advances and retreats. And it is also admitted that the Germans have been able to retain part of the ground they have gained. It is pointed out that these gains have been more than offset by the gains on the part of the allies and the impression is fostered from official quarters that the present German activity in the north is for the purpose of covering a general withdrawal to new battle lines farther in the rear.

Gen. Von Kluck's army, which holds the positions near Soissons, has again attempted the offensive, but it is officially declared that it has failed to gain any ground. It is believed here that Germany plans to withdraw all of her troops from Russian Poland to the firing line of entrenchments inside of the East Prussian frontier and that part of the troops that will be released by this movement are certain to be sent to France to fight.

Claim Germans are Retreating
Insistent claims that the Germans have at last been defeated in the north and that their present desperate resistance is to cover the withdrawal of their forces from the coast line and to the east of the Ostend-Lille-Arras line were made at military headquarters today. It was stated that the German resistance has materially weakened between Neuport and Dixmude, and that most of their big guns, with the exception of those mounted on automobiles and their machine gun equipment, have been withdrawn to the rear.

German Losses Enormous
The German losses have been enormous—far greater in proportion than in any previous battle of the war. In order to divert attention from their front in the north it is stated that the enemy is attempting a new offensive along the heights of the Meuse but that this action is being participated in for the most

HARVARD LEADS THE WOLVERINES

Score Is 7 to 0 Against Michigan at End of the Third Quarter in Eastern Game Today

SOLDIERS FIELD, CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 31.—At the end of the third quarter of the Michigan-Harvard game here today, Harvard had a 7 point lead over the westerners, the fruit of a touchdown and goal kick by Hardwick in the second quarter.

The game was a stiffly fought contest, with Harvard playing mostly old-style football, and Michigan un-corking some dazzling passing and open play. So effective did this style and Maubetsch's line bucking prove that in the first quarter Michigan had the ball on Harvard's one yard line, but failed to push it over.

LATE DISCOVERY WORRIES WOMEN

MANDAN, N. D., Oct. 31.—"Come out and vote," has been adopted as the campaign motto of suffragists of North Dakota. Under the North Dakota constitution, it will be necessary to get a three-fourths vote for an amendment admitting women to vote and this fact, discovered late, is today causing anxiety for the suffragists.

ALLIES ATTEMPT TO TAKE CITY BY ASSAULT IN FORCE

City Reported on Fire; Jap Squadron of Fast Cruisers Sent Out to Sink Emden

TOKIO, Oct. 31.—The Japanese-British-Indian troops who are attempting the reduction of the German concession at Kiao Chau are reported today to have captured another outlying fort near Tsing-Tao and to be attempting to take the entire position by a series of assaults. They are receiving assistance from the Japanese fleet, which is steaming close in shore and is bombarding the positions with its heavy guns. Every effort is being made by the Japanese to take the city and advances today say that already a good portion of it has been destroyed by fires set by the exploding shells.

Meanwhile a flying squadron comprising the swiftest cruisers of the Japanese fleet has been dispatched to search for and destroy the German cruiser Emden which is raiding Japanese and British shipping in the Indian ocean. The Japanese cruisers assigned to this task are faster than the Emden and unless the latter is able to make a neutral port and is interned by her commander, officials at the admiralty are certain that she will be sunk within the next few days.

At Bangor at 1:30 this afternoon he talked to approximately 100.

He will speak at Linker's hall at 8 o'clock tonight.

BELL PEOPLE TO FIGHT PHYSICAL CONNECTION HERE

Wisconsin Telephone Company Withdraw Application for Dismissal and Will Go to High Courts

WINTER DEMANDS A DECISION

Attorney for La Crosse Company Refused to Let Connection Be Made without Court Opinion

SERVICE NOW IS IN OPERATION

Subscriber of One Can Use Lines of Other Company Under August Order of Commission

The Wisconsin Telephone company is going to fight Wisconsin's physical connection law to the limit.

This was indicated today when attorneys for the Bell company filed notice in the Dane county circuit court withdrawing its application to dismiss the suit in the toll cases brought by Attorney Frank Winter on behalf of the La Crosse Telephone company.

In August the Wisconsin railroad commission issued an order for physical connection between the lines of the Wisconsin and La Crosse companies at La Crosse.

The Bell people agreed to comply with the order and requested that the suit against them, brought by Attorney Winter in the Dane county circuit court, be dropped.

Mr. Winter, to secure a ruling on the constitutionality of the law, refused to drop the suit.

The withdrawal of the petition for dismissal indicates that the company will test the constitutionality of the law and will take the case to the highest courts in an effort to have the law declared unconstitutional.

In the meantime La Crosse patrons of either phone enjoy the use of the toll lines of the other.

BERLIN REPORTS SHOW SUBSTANTIAL GAINS ON BOTH OF FRONTS

VIENNA WIRELESS REPORTS SWEEPING VICTORY AT NISKO

Russian Ammunition Depot Reported Demolished and Many Prisoners Taken

BERLIN, via The Hague, Oct. 31.—Beyond the statement that the campaigns are progressing satisfactorily and we are making slow but substantial gains in both the eastern and western theater of war, the war office had no comment to make on the general war situation today. It was announced that at no point on either front is the conflict approaching a decisive stage.

Wireless dispatches from Vienna say that the Austrians have gained a sweeping victory over the Russians who crossed the San river south of Nisko. A Russian ammunition depot has been demolished by Austrian infantry. The prisoners taken by the Austrians to date, excluding those captured this week, are 73,170 men and 454 officers, according to this report.

Move Against Verdun

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Via Wireless through Sayville, L. I., to The United Press.—Military experts here and the Berlin newspapers place the utmost importance on the developments around Verdun. It is stated that the Germans are making material progress toward all of the forts in the Toul-Verdun line, despite the utmost efforts of the strongly reinforced French line. The Germans have extended their operations both north and south from St. Mihiel, which was captured late in September. For a month, the French have attempted to retake the positions here but their efforts have everywhere been repulsed.

Now that the French attempts to advance from Toul and Nancy have been completely checked, it is believed here that the original object of the campaign against the French frontier forts, the reduction of Verdun and its line of fortifications will be pushed.

BADGERS TIE WITH MAROONS AT HALF

Score Is Nothing to Nothing for First Two Quarters Although Chicago Threatened in Opener

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31.—Although outweighed and considered the inferior team, Captain Tubby Keeler's Wisconsin eleven had held the Chicago huskies to a scoreless tie at the end of the first half of the game at Camp Randall this afternoon. In the first quarter Chicago threatened seriously, but the Badger defense stiffened on its two yard line, and Bellows punted the ball to safety from the shadow of his own goal posts.

At 1:45 p. m. the Wisconsin team trotted onto the field, headed by Captain Tubby Keeler and were greeted by 15,000 fans. A thirty mile breeze from the west promises to be a big advantage for the winner of the toss.

At 1:50 the Chicago squad, thirty strong, took the field and immediately lined up and ran through simple formations.

In the first quarter Wisconsin worked the ball to Chicago's twenty-five yard line by steady bucks and line plunges, but Bellows failed on a forward pass to Cummings. Chicago got the ball on their thirty yard line and advanced the ball to Wisconsin's five yard line. The Badgers held on their two yard line. Bellows kicked to Russell, who was downed on Wisconsin's thirty-five yard line.

PRACTICE FOR VOTE COUNTERS

At 8 o'clock this evening the election officers of the city and county will get together at the city hall in the council chamber and hold a straw ballot with sample ballots and then count them up on the new tally sheets. This is for the purpose of getting all election officers so familiar with the new system of counting that the returns from La Crosse county will come in before any other county in the state.

WAR DECLARATION FROM TURKEY IS STILL WITHHELD; ALLIES WAITING

No Word Comes from Turks of Intention to Attack Russia Following Declarations of Warships

TURKISH COUNCIL IN SESSION

France and Britain Notify Russia that Turkey Must Fight Them if She Attacks Czar

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Rome correspondent says that the Russian Black sea fleet has attacked the Turkish squadron sinking a mine layer and destroyer, and capturing a collier. He also states that Turkish warships are now bombarding Sevastopol.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 31.—No word has come from Constantinople regarding Turkey's intention. Although her warships have attacked Russian ports and shipping, the Turkish government continues mute on whether this offensive constitutes a state of war. Meanwhile, Russia is taking all precautions. A censorship has been established on all news from Black sea ports and warships and troops are being moved in accordance with prearranged plans.

Turks in Council

The Turkish ambassador has received word that the Turkish cabinet met last night in a special council, and that the meeting was still continuing. He has no word from his government regarding its intentions. It is believed, however, that upon the result of this meeting will hinge whether Turkey will formally declare war and hurl her army into the field.

Allies Will Aid

The Russian government has the assurances of both France and England that they will make its cause theirs so far as Turkey or any other nation is concerned. While the populace generally has welcomed the new enemy officialdom is maintaining a definite policy of refusal to discuss the events now transpiring in Turkey.

Porte Hangs Back

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Interest in the Turkish situation is increasing in intensity as the result of the failure of the porte officially to declare war on Russia. Despite the sinking of the Russian gunboat Donets, the damaging of several other vessels, and the destruction of much property in Odessa harbor, and the other overt acts by the Turks reported from various Black sea points, the Turkish government has not assumed official responsibility.

Enlightening.

A New England man during a visit to Germany chanced to put up at a hotel in Berlin where a majority of the guests were scholars and professors, there to attend an international congress on philology.

One afternoon a much bewhiskered and very solemn German fell to talking with the New Englander on the subject of the names of towns in America. "From what place do you come?"

"Andover," proudly responded the Yankee.

"Ah! And where is Andover?"

"Next to Tewksbury," responded the New England man.—Boston Herald.

Martial Law and Military Law.

Martial law may be defined as that military rule or authority which exists in time of war and is conferred by the laws of war in relation to persons and things within the scope of active military operations and which extinguishes or suspends, for the time being, civil rights so far as this may be necessary for the purpose of the war. In other words, it is the application of military government to persons and property within its scope.

Military law, on the other hand, is a body of rules and ordinances prescribed for the government of the military state considered as a distinct community.—London Tit-Bits.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

A NIGHT ALARM

BY JOHN DARLING

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Do you see this key, Marjorie?" asked Harold Vance, exhibiting a brand new, good sized key.

"I'm not blind, yet, Buddie," laughed the girl. "What is it—key to your heart?"

"Nothing like it, sis—it's the key to the new fire house down the lane. I'm going to hang it in the vestibule on that brass hook by the door and if ever you need it—case of emergency, you know—why there it is."

And, added the young man with some pride, "I'd have you know that your brother is captain of the South Glen View volunteer fire department. Salute me!"

Marjorie made him a sweeping bow as he passed before her and went into the vestibule to hang up the key. "The importance of this budding volunteer fire department overwhelms me, I'm sure."

Nevertheless it was a satisfying sensation that the neighborhood of Glen View experienced when the small fire house was completed and equipped. The settlement heretofore had been between two districts covered by volunteer firemen, and the inhabitants had always feared a fire for this reason. Thus, it had organized the small corps and had built and equipped the engine house.

Young Harold Vance had been chosen captain because he had been an active worker in all community projects. The other members were men of the settlement, married and single.

When Halloween approached the volunteer firemen had a few misgivings as to the safety of their apparatus, for the bright red equipment of the tiny house had been made sport of by some of the neighboring boys. They might take advantage of the frolicsome spirit of Halloween to make away with the contents of the new fire house.

"I believe some one had better sleep here tonight," suggested one of the members, chief of patrol, to use his recently acquired title.

"Good idea," acquiesced Capt. Vance. "Who'll do it?"

No one seemed anxious for the responsibility and yet there was room for only one if the man were to sleep—the basket of the hose wagon having been chosen as a spot most comfortable to sleep in.

"I'll do it," Stanley Donaldson said, at length. He was a big fellow and had been appointed first lieutenant of the company.

"You'll look cunnin' in that basket, Stan," chaffed Vance.

"Never mind the looks. See that I don't have to ring in an alarm—that's all I ask," Donaldson replied, slowly.

The words had no sooner passed his lips than the idea sprang up in his brain. He vowed to see to it that he was not the only one to feel responsibility in his fire department.

That night when all seemed still, all pranksters had returned home and everything was dark, the young lieutenant, alone in the small fire house in the lane, rang in the alarm. He sounded three times on the large triangle of steel and sat down to await the arrival of the volunteers.

Presently down the lane on the run came some one, but there seemed to be no rush of volunteers. A lone person was approaching and that person was—a girl!

Stanley called out, "hello."

"Hello—oh, Stanley. I couldn't wake Harold up and I—I grabbed the key and came in his place. He—he sleeps so soundly, and oh—where's the fire? Do hurry!" She looked about her in distress, holding together her long loose coat and tucking in two braids of hair.

"Fire—why, Marjorie, there isn't any fire. I—I will you ever forgive me for getting you out at this unearthly hour?"

"I was just trying to get even with the fellows for letting me be the goat and stay here all night alone. But you see what efficient firemen they are—not a soul turned up."

"Thank you," Marjorie said icily.

"Not a fireman—I beg your pardon. And now let me walk home with you. You must be cold."

"Cold? After that run?"

Stanley looked at her as she stood under the light that ornamented the front of the small building. He had never seen her look so lovely. Her parted hair falling in loose braids made her wonderfully pretty. Stanley had always more than admired her, but with his slow, easy-going methods he had been unable to tell her so.

"But—I can't stay here," Marjorie said, after an awkward silence.

"Of course not—come. But wait—"

"I have an idea."

"Not a real one, Stanley?" Marjorie laughed.

He opened wide the door of the fire house and drew out the big red wagon. "Get on that and I'll pull you home. I can do it and it'll be a lark," he cried.

"I'll do nothing of the sort—it's too heavy, child," Marjorie retorted, patronizingly. "But I will help you to drag it away from here, and we'll give the boys a fright. If they can't even wake up when an alarm is given they deserve to have their precious equipment taken from them. Get a hold. I'm ashamed of my brother Harold."

The two dragged the big red cart down the lane and along the street to a vacant lot, where they managed to hide it among some shrubbery. "What'll I tell them?" asked Stanley as he and Marjorie strolled toward home.

Marjorie's brow puckered. "Oh, is an unrealizable force in the life of every man, woman and child. It is an intangible, unexplainable thing of the emotions—the baby listening to the lullabys of its mother, the child singing her doll to sleep, the street urchin dancing to the tune of the merry hand organ. These children are each further along in their ethical development than if they had not found music and loved it. Musical training has a great educational value and the appreciation of tone, rhythm and melody may be had in every home with a little forethought.

Music

The Dogs of Belgium Are Famous Workers. They Draw Little Carts.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Dogs of Peace And War In Far-Off Belgium.

"It is a rare sight to see a dog working in this country, isn't it, kiddies?" asked daddy.

"Why, I have never seen a dog work, though I don't see why they shouldn't if they are big enough," replied Jack.

"Well, the dogs of Belgium are famous workers. They draw little carts and have harnesses made for them. There are the draft dogs of the milk and vegetable sellers and the dogs used by the military for the purpose of pulling light machine guns and are also used by the medical corps.

"But I must tell you about the big 'husky' owned by a milk vender. This dog's name was Alaska because he had once been sold to an Alaskan explorer and brought back when the explorer returned to Belgium; then was rebought by Jan Verdean, who was very sorry that he had sold Alaska.

"Little Roselle Verdean was glad, too, when Papa Verdean bought back Alaska, for she and Alaska had been playmates for a long time when the doggie was not busy carrying the milk.

"The only means of support that these poor Belgian peasants had was the milk sold morning and night to the people of Bruges.

"When those faded golden bells of Bruges would ring out the hour of 3 Alaska was always ready and waiting between the shafts of the milk cart.

"But one morning instead of Jan little Roselle, who was only ten years old, and Mamma Verdean, adjusted the harness.

"Their faces were swollen from weeping, and their eyes were heavy with anxiety, for Papa Verdean had gone to war and left little Roselle and her mamma all alone. But Mamma Verdean was brave. Instead of sitting down and weeping she wept and milked the cows at the same time, having determined to do her part of the war work which was to keep the people of Papa Verdean's milk route supplied with their milk, and little Roselle was to drive the cart, and they were going to rely on the sagacity of the dog to stop at the right places.

"You see, they had a list, but they didn't know where all the houses were. But, bless your hearts, Alaska knew. He trotted away gallantly that summer morning with little Roselle perched up behind.

"And Alaska never missed a customer. He trotted along until he came to a familiar gate, and then he would stop, and in that way Roselle and her mamma kept the wolf of hunger from the door while Papa Verdean fought in the war and also kept the customers supplied with milk."

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE FOR BLAINE

William Allen White, Editor of the Emporia, Kas., Gazette, far-famed progressive leader in the larger sense, has this to say of the Wisconsin situation:

In Wisconsin the standpatters in the two old parties won the primary victory. The candidates of both parties in Wisconsin are hopelessly reactionary and are in favor of putting Wisconsin back into Rhode Island's class. The splendid University of Wisconsin, which has been a beacon of light in American politics, not only in Wisconsin affairs, but in the affairs of all the western states, is in danger of attack from either of the reactionary gubernatorial candidates, who wins. The situation is critical. Progressives of all parties are uniting under Senator Blaine, who has accepted an independent nomination, and is making a progressive light outside of party lines.

Senator Blaine was the man who organized the Wilson republicans against Roosevelt to carry the state from Roosevelt to Wilson. But that should make no difference to men who believe in the progressive party, or who believe in progressive principles. Men who believe in progress should remember Lot's wife, who turned to look back and turned to a pillar of salt. Any progressive party man in Wisconsin who turns back to ask what Senator Blaine was doing in 1912, is not much better than the republican who votes on war issues or the democrat who is still voting for Jackson. It is not what Blaine was, but what he is, that will save the Wisconsin ideal to America. That idea is one of the big vital ideas in American political life. It means that intelligence shall guide the quest for justice. By reason of this clear leadership of her university, Wisconsin has been able to outstrip her sister states. To mask the lamp, to cripple the university, to go back to the rule of politicians—of no matter what party, would put progress back in every American state.

The issue, therefore, is national. It is clear cut and no man can claim he has a right to vote his grudge when his state's welfare is at stake. The ability of Senator Blaine is unquestioned. His integrity may not be attacked. His sincerity is evident. Men do not lead crusades such as he is leading this year unless they have faith, and intelligent faith at that.

It is a great fight, which the nation is watching, in this Wisconsin struggle. The cause of good government should unite men. For the cause of bad government is divided. It is merely a question as to whether or not the men of Wisconsin have political courage and intelligence to rise above party tradition and vote a man's vote for a righteous cause. Wisconsin's intelligence is on trial.

Mr. White's reference to "what Blaine was doing in 1912" refers to the Boscheb man having organized the republican progressives to support Wilson. We are as pleased with "what Mr. Blaine was doing in 1912" as with what Mr. Blaine is doing now. In 1912 he did for the progressive democrats what the progressive democrats are doing in cooperation with Mr. Blaine now—standing like Gibraltar for honest principle.

THEN AND NOW
A number of republican gentlemen of the "substantial sort" are firmly convinced that in having supported the independent candidacy of John J. Blaine, Charles H. Schweizer and Frank P. Coburn have yielded to an anarchistic influence in which are all the elements of party perfidy, dangerous citizenship and treason to Lincoln and McKinley.

We could mention the names of many of these gentlemen.

Away back in 1896 Coburn and Schweizer, then democrats, left the democratic party which was standing upon Bryan's free-silver platform, and organized the independent presidential candidacy of Palmer and Buckner in this county.

What did these "substantial republicans" who now hold up the party as the sole guide and conscience-keeper of good men, say about that incident?

Were Schweizer and Coburn traitors and anarchists in 1896?

Oh, no! Those substantial republicans greeted them as men of heroic independence. It is even recalled that in a public address, when Mr. Schweizer spoke from the same platform with Hon. John J. Esch, Mr. Esch eulogized Schweizer as a patriot of the highest type.

If Mr. Esch was then right in saying conscience is above party, Schweizer and Coburn are right today. And they ARE right.

HUSTING OR M'GOVERN?
We have little to offer on the United States senatorship so far as the purely political aspect goes.

McGovern, who is undoubtedly for Blaine, is said to be endorsing Philipp in some of his speeches. He did not in La Crosse, and his closest personal adviser, Henry Cochens, is out for Blaine. McGovern is accompanied by ex-Governor James O. Davidson, who speaks particularly for Philipp.

Husting, at heart against Karel, endorses him in his speeches.

On the matter of records in office, Hustung stands the better examination. He has been a more thorough-going progressive and is more disinterested in his adherence to progressive principles than McGovern. He has not the handicap of the McGovern bull moose idea of legalizing the trusts. He would go to the senate without that bitterness of spirit that might lead McGovern away from the straight-eyed truths of the great movement and discolor the true values of issues.

These are the facts, stated without feeling, from the record.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Call of the Colors
On the blood watered fields of the Balkans
A Bulgar is clinched with a Turk.
And the task of the cannon and rifle
Will be finished by fist and by dirk.
And the last word of hate ere the rattle
Of death bids their enmity cease
Is the call to the banners of battle
Or the call to the colors of Peace!

In the purlieus of sin befogged cities
Slow food of neglect and of pest
How many a mother lies dying.
With tomorrow's pale scourge at her breast!
And the bread cry that serves for the prattle
Of orphan—(oh, when shall it cease?)
Does it call to the banners of battle,
Or call to the colors of Peace?

I hear from my window this morning
The shout of the soldiering boy;
And a note in his proud pleasure wounds me
With the grief that is presaged by joy.
I hear not the drum's noisy rattle
For the groan of our hero's release;
Is it call to the banners of battle
Or a call to the colors of Peace?

Oh, ye of the God-given voices,
My poets of whom I am proud,
Who sing of the true and the real
When illusions are dazzling the crowd;
Go, turn men from wolves and from cattle,
Till Love be the one Golden Fleece,
Oh, call us no more unto battle,
But call to the colors of Peace!
Robert Underwood Johnson.

No Souvenir Desired
"Austria is disappointing those admirers of hers who thought her the most warlike of all nations," said F. A. Hardart, the well-known restaurateur, as the Chicago docked in New York. "But after all there are better qualities than warlike ones, and in these Austria still holds her own."

"But admirers of fighting are a bit disappointed, and some of Austria's former worshippers on the Chicago reminded me of the souvenir collector."

"A souvenir collector approached the manager of a famous restaurant and said:

"Permit me, sir, to return this silver champagne bucket and this Sevres coffee set. I took the liberty before I ordered my dinner, of appropriating them as souvenirs. But after the meal you served me,—well, really—some things are better forgotten than souvenirs."

War and Football
"War is one thing, football is another," said Percy Haughton, the famous Harvard coach. "But before the new rules were introduced, football and war were the same thing absolutely."

Mr. Haughton smiled.
"They tell a story of a player under the old rules. This player, just after the game, was seen hopping about the gridiron on one leg in the frosty autumn twilight."

"Limbering up your muscles, sir?" said a field attendant. "Limbering up after the game, sir?"

"No, not at all," the player answered. "I'm looking for my left foot. You haven't seen it anywhere, have you?"

Our Divorces
The penchant toward divorce that is shown by the American Multi-millionaire of 55 or so after he has made his pile led Schuyler Livingston to say at a luncheon in Newport:

"I was lamenting the other afternoon the marriage of a beautiful young stenographer of 18 to her employer, a millionaire grass-widower of 60."

"If ever a girl was bought," I shouted in my excitement—"if ever a girl was bought like a horse or a house, this girl has been bought by old Gotrox."

"But a lady with a quiet smile shook her head and said:
"Oh, no, Mr. Gotrox hasn't bought her. He's only rented her."

By Grams
It is a terrible job to teach the metric system in the public schools of America, just as it is a terrible task to get that system adopted even by the grown-ups. We are used to thinking in inches and pounds, and we can't seem to get accustomed to thinking in centimetres and milligrams. The words are strange, the fractions are more so. We are likely to go by sounds, and then get sounds confused.

A teacher in the public schools tells us of the table of metric weights given by a pupil in an examination the other day. She comments on it, but we won't. Here was his idea:
"Ten centigrams make one pentagram."
"Ten pentagrams make one epigram."
"Ten epigrams make one telegram."
"Ten telegrams make one anagram."

Her Apprenticeship.
Tall Blonde—"Gerty Giddygad's coiffure is the envy of every girl in the store. I wonder where she learned to make a knot like that."

Short Brunette—"Before she came here, she was chief pretzel tier in a wholesale bakery."

BOHEMIAN PAPER GIVES DETAILS OF WORK OF THE "BUSY BERTHAS"

Elbe Zeitung, a newspaper published at Aussig, Bohemia, received recently in La Crosse, gives the following description of the operation of the huge 42 centimeter (16.5 inch) guns of the German army:

"The much talked about 42 centimeter siege gun of the Germans weighs, according to reliable information, 124 tons. The projectile used weighs one ton or 2,956 pounds. It shoots a distance of 28 miles, length of tube, 21 meter, cost of each shot, 38,000 marks, or 9,500 dollars. Cost of each gun (estimated) 1,850,000 marks, or 462,500 dollars. The interval between shots is ten minutes. These guns are known in the German army as 'Tante Bertha' (Aunt Bertha) and the life of one of these substantial 'Aunts' is figured to contain one hundred and twenty shots."

Heavy Fire Wagons Use "Nobby Treads" To Gain Speed and Safety

The Nashua, New Hampshire, Fire Department owns the handsome fire wagon shown above.

It is a heavy fire fighting machine. The fact that it is equipped with pneumatic tires is interesting. The purchasing agent of the department has found that "Nobby Treads" are the only tires that will give satisfactory service and permit the car to travel at high speed with safety.

MACK WILL SELL HIS FAMOUS TRIO

Ask Waivers Today on Noted Pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs

REPORTED DICKERING WITH FEDS

This Is Said to Have Influenced Athletic Manager in His Decision

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 31.—A sensation was sprung in baseball circles today, when Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, announced that he had asked for waivers on Pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs. These three men were the mainstays of the Philadelphia machine when it was at the height of its power.

There were unconfirmed reports here today that the three famous pitchers had been negotiating with the Federalists and that this influenced Mack in his decision to dispose of them. As a result of Mack's asking for waivers, any club may obtain any one of the trio for $1,500, the waiver price.

Bender was knocked out of the box in the first game of the recent world's series with the Braves. He was a big factor in winning three world's championships for the Athletics.

Eddie Plank will go down in baseball history as one of the greatest left handed pitchers of the game. He is past forty years old and for years back reports that Plank was "through" have only been followed by the veteran making a remarkable showing.

Jack Coombs first attracted attention as a pitcher for Colby college and joined the Athletics in 1905. Two years ago Coombs was stricken with typhoid fever. His back was affected and he lay for weeks with heavy iron weights swung from his neck and feet. He was able to travel and practice with the team this season, but did little pitching. Coombs is 32 years old.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Wheat started with an advance of 1-2 to 3-4c today on account of the generally bullish foreign news centering about the possible participation of Turkey and the Balkan countries in the war. Offerings came out freely on this advance and there was a sharp slump that carried prices down to a shade to 1-4c below last night's close.

Corn started 1-2c higher on unfavorable news from Argentina but heavy selling on this advance caused a reaction to yesterday's closing price, or even a shade lower.

Oats started 1-4c higher on reports that the crop in Sweden would be short and more of the American crop would be demanded. The break in wheat and corn, however, carried oats values down to 1-4 to 1-2c below last night's close.

Provisions lacked support from the hog market, but were generally steady.

PARTY CANDIDATE SAYS TREMPPEALEAU IS BLAINE COUNTY

Democratic Nominee for District Attorney Has no Doubt but that Independent will Win

THOMPSON AND BOSSHARD SPEAK

Review Records of Karel and Philipp to Audience to Which They are Not Entirely New

PROMISES OF SUPPORT MANY

Men of All Parties Assure Speakers That They Are in the Fight for Principle and Will Forget Party

"Trempealeau county is for Blaine. I feel certain of this. I am running on a ticket which opposes him but my honest belief is that he will carry the vote of Trempealeau county by a large majority."—Attorney F. C. Richmond, Arcadia, democratic candidate for district attorney.

The above is illustrative of the sentiment of 200 voters of Trempealeau county who last night in the city hall at Blair, heard Attorney James Thompson and Senator Otto Bosshard, La Crosse, give innumerable reasons why progressives of all parties should rally to the support of Blaine, rather than Philipp or Karel.

The La Crosse speakers were warmly received at Blair and their review of the stalwart records of Philipp and Karel made a deep impression among the farmers and businessmen.

James Thompson's slogan—"I'd rather be right than regular"—had already been heard in Trempealeau county and many of those who heard Bosshard and himself speak repeated it for an interview with The Tribune's representative.

P. G. Peterson, prominent republican buyer of Blair, shook hands with the speakers at the close of the evening and pledged his support.

O. L. Olson, stock buyer of Blair was another enthusiast for the independent progressive cause.

"John J. Blaine stands for the people's interests," he said, "and his cause cannot lose."

Blaine Going to Win
 Lewis Instensen, proprietor of a jewelry establishment at Blair is a Blaine man.

"Blaine is not only going to win the votes of this section of the state, but he is going to win all over the state. His cause is in the interest of the people, and they cannot but fall to realize it."

"I felt that the voters of Wisconsin were being fooled when Philipp and Karel were nominated," said O. F. Immell, manufacturer of the Chippewa salt, "and I think that they see it now, and will vote for Blaine. Put me down for Blaine."

Albert Quammen, independent candidate for sheriff of Trempealeau county, pledged himself last night. "Use my name in the interest of Blaine if you want to," said Stener Hanson, "and I promise he will have my support."

"I don't care who knows that I am for Blaine," said Peter Harried, as he greeted the speakers last night.

"There are few men in Blair," said Paul Thompson, "who will not go to the polls Tuesday for John J. Blaine. While Trempealeau county is one in which voters love their old parties, from the conversation I hear, I judge the independent will have a sweeping victory."

P. B. Thompson and A. L. Thompson, sons of Paul Thompson, pledged their support among the young men of their community.

Young Men for Blaine
 A. L. Thompson, a graduate of the Agricultural department of the University of Wisconsin, said:

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old time mixture of Sage tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

HOME RULE LEAGUE HIT BY JUDGE ROSA

Blaine Man Exhibits a Voucher to Show Over $11,000 Was Lopped from His State Claim

MT. HOREB, Wis., Oct. 31.—

"Emanuel L. Philipp, the republican candidate for governor, is out asking for a return of the good old days. The home rule league, with T. C. Richmond as one of its leading sponsors, is also sighing for the good old days. What a strange juxtaposition in politics. The Home Rule league, which claims to advocate home rule, is asking for the defeat of the constitutional amendments, among which is an amendment guaranteeing greater home rule to cities, villages and localities, and the referendum, which gives the people the right of vetoing unwise legislation like excessive appropriations."

Judge C. D. Rosa of Beloit made this reference to a political organization born of the present campaign, in a speech on behalf of John J. Blaine last night. Judge Rosa said that there was little wonder that Mr. Richmond should sigh for the good old days. He exhibited to his audience a facsimile voucher from the office of the secretary of state made out to T. C. Richmond where in 1907, Mr. Richmond presented a claim to the state for professional services and expenses in inheritance tax cases of $19,162.69. He read the memorandum on the voucher which showed that Governor Davidson and others had reduced the amount claimed to $7,162.69. In other words, $11,500 was lopped off the claim of this man who now asks the people to return to the days when such professional services were obtained at great expense to the state by a few lawyers. The work for which Mr. Richmond attempted to charge the state over $19,000 he said was now being done by an official of the tax commission for less than one-fifth of this amount annually.

A Success.
 The conversation had turned to the many men who had met success. "There, for instance," said one man, pointing down the street, "goes a man who began life in poverty and now lives on the fat of the land." McFee looked. "Yes, I know him," he replied. "He's an agent for an antifac concern."—Judge.

Submarine Mines

By Ford H. MacGregor

Chief, Municipal Reference Bureau, University of Wisconsin.

Copyright, 1914, by the University of Wisconsin Extension Division

Submarine mines are among the most fearful weapons of modern naval warfare. They were first used by the south in the civil war to destroy northern ships blockading southern ports, and proved to be terribly efficient instruments of destruction. No less than 22 northern vessels were destroyed by them. Since then much inventive ingenuity has been devoted to their perfection.

They were used on a large scale by both sides in the Russo-Japanese war and resulted in the destruction of a great many innocent neutral vessels. The Chinese delegate to The Hague conference in 1907 declared that from five to six hundred of his countrymen engaged in peaceful occupations had met their death from these dangerous explosives, and that his government still had to furnish coasted vessels with special apparatus to raise and destroy floating mines which were set adrift during that war.

Submarine mines are of two kinds—observation mines and contact mines. Observation mines are exploded by an observer who stays on shore and presses an electric button when he sees an enemy's ship passing over the minefield. Such mines can be controlled and do not require special regulation, but they are little used because they cannot be observed at any considerable distance from land.

Contact mines, on the other hand, are not connected with the shore but explode automatically when they come in contact with the bottom of a vessel, or are struck with considerable force. They can be anchored to the bottom and adjusted to any desired depth, or they can be merely set afloat and allowed to drift with the wind or sea. Automatic contact mines are legitimate and effective weapons when anchored and used for defense, but are an intolerable menace to neutral shipping and commerce when merely set adrift to destroy any vessel that may come in contact with them.

The great damage to neutral ships which resulted from the use of floating contact mines in the Russo-Japanese war led to an attempt to limit and regulate their use by the Hague conference. Because they are such formidable weapons, however, the nations have been loath to bind themselves too closely, and the present regulations are quite unsatisfactory. Submarine mines may be laid in the enemy's territorial waters and in waters within the region of war, but the common law of nations forbids laying them in neutral waters. The convention signed at The Hague forbids the laying of unanchored mines unless they are so constructed as to become harmless within an hour after they are laid, and of anchored mines unless they become harmless whenever they break loose from their moorings. The same convention forbids the use of torpedoes which do not become harmless when they have missed their mark. Submarine mines may not be laid for the sole purpose of intercepting commercial navigation. The Institute of international law in 1910 also agreed on the prohibition of both anchored and drifting mines on the high seas.—Extract from University of Wisconsin Extension Division's Correspondence Course in the International Law of War.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease. Chas. A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main street.

For Aching Feet.

One of the best remedies for aching of the feet is resting the muscles in the soles of the feet by changing the shoes frequently. Every pair of shoes is cut from a different last and the tread will be varied with every changing of the shoes. Bathing the feet with either very hot or very cold water, wiping them dry and then rubbing them with spirits of camphor will cool the feet and remove the aching.

Waiting for the Right Day.

Somebody passed a counterfeit dollar on old Uncle Mose, which nearly broke his heart. Weeks later he related his troubles to his employer. "Ah done gib up lookin' fer do man whut gimme it," he said. "Ah reckon it ain't no use tryin' fer to find him." "Well, it looks pretty good for a counterfeit," remarked the other. "Why don't you try to get rid of it?" "Yes, sah, yes, sah. Sho' does look thataway. Some days Ah think masef it's good. Guess Ah'll jes' wait fer one of 'em good days an' jee' pass it erlong."

Slightly Mixed.

Here is a schoolroom story, told us by a Michigan health supervisor: "We were raising funds for paying for operations for removal of the adenoids and tonsils. The school children were much interested and canvassed the town selling stamps. At one home where a little boy called to sell stamps the lady asked: 'What are you going to do with the money?' The little boy quickly replied: 'It is to buy adenoids for little children that haven't got none.'"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

His Appeal to Papa.

Little Webster had entered into an agreement with his father whereby he was to receive a penny every time he came when called, providing he covered the distance before his father counted to five. One day he was out on the lawn when called and did not start until he heard "three." Running as hard as he could, he shouted, "Say three all the time. Say three all the time, papa."

THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH

The opium bonfire in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles officials burned $35,000 worth of opium and layouts in a big public bonfire the other day. Among other things that went up in smoke was the gold-encrusted pipe of the centenarian Tim Leo. When the pipe was confiscated he offered $1,000 in gold for its return.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

ENGLAND.—The Turkish situation overshadows everything else, as up to the present Turkey has not declared war on Russia or accepted official responsibility for the hostile acts of her warships. The reports of a battle between Russian and Turkish fleets in the Black sea are not confirmed. British Egyptian army strengthened by the addition of Australian and New Zealand troops.

FRANCE.—Definite claims are made that the Germans are retreating all along the line and it is said in Paris that the French government will move back to that city about November 20.

RUSSIA.—No official news has been received from Constantinople, although Turkey has been called on for a statement of her intentions. Russian Black sea fleet is reported to have sailed to search for the Turkish fleet.

JAPAN.—The combined Japanese-British Indian forces are making a general assault on Tsing-Tao assisted by the fleet while a flying squadron of fast cruisers has been sent to try and capture or sink the German commerce destroyer Emden.

GERMANY.—Today's official statement declared that the Germans continue their offensive in both theaters of war.

LA FOLLETTE TELLS STALWART RECORDS

United States Senator Shows Voters Where Candidate Stood in Speech at Neenah

NEENAH, Wis., Oct. 31.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, campaigning the state in the interests of John J. Blaine, independent non-partisan candidate for governor, read the records of Philipp and Karel to an audience of mill hands here this noon.

A sensation was sprung when M. B. Olbrich, manager of the Blaine campaign, who introduced Senator La Follette, declared that if either Philipp or Karel were elected, proceedings might be begun under the corrupt practices act to oust them from office. He declared that Karel managers, previous to the primary, had sent out letters intimating that an anti-Catholic attack was being directed at Karel, securing a last minute vote by that method. He also charged that Philipp managers had appealed to Germans to vote for Philipp because he was a German, when in fact he is a Swiss-Italian. He also alleged that Philipp managers had over-stepped their expense limit.

Ask U. S. to Take Charge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. That the allies consider formal declarations of war on the part of Turkey imminent, was evidenced today from informal inquiries as to whether this government is willing to take over the French, English and Russian embassies in Constantinople. When the inquiry takes formal shape, this government will agree to act for the three nations.

Rome declare that Constantinople already has heard of a naval battle between the Turkish and Russian fleets. But there is no confirmation of this and Rome news has been singularly unreliable during the present war.

England Guards Egypt. England is in readiness to prevent any invasion of Egypt by the Turks. There has been much mystery over the whereabouts of the Australian and New Zealand units who have been at various times reported on the firing line. It is now understood that they are in Egypt and have been guarding the entire length of the Suez canal for several weeks.

GOOD MANNERS BRED BY TASTE--JASTROW

University Professor Says Vulgarities Is Result of Slovenly Use of English Language

The afternoon session of the Western Wisconsin Teachers' association yesterday was divided into five sections. The high school section held its meeting in the Auditorium.

Professor Joseph Jastrow, head of the Psychological division of the University of Wisconsin, gave an interesting lecture on the "Psychology of Manners." He described good manners as an art which is impossible to learn from books but is more acquired by the use of good taste. He said a great quantity of the vulgarity is the result of slovenly use of the English language. Slang and other unnecessary words, he said, are caused by the same association which breeds bad manners. In the grade school division Mr. M. M. Bray of Tomah, made an address on the teaching of current events and general information. Many of the teachers at present teach the text from books only so that the pupils know nothing, after graduating from the grades, of the things happening in the outside world. Mr. Bray would have every school teacher devote at least one period a week in the discussion of current events.

The facts actually learned by students while studying algebra are of little actual use in after life, was the declaration of Mr. William Collinge, a member of the mathematic department of the Tomah high school. It is the training in analytical thinking which the pupils profit by. He said that a person's reasoning power after studying this subject is greatly increased and one is able to connect arguments into a network of connected facts.

part by reserve troops and has not the violence of the previous assaults.

Positive assurances were received here today from the front that today at nearly every point on the line of battle in the north the allies are occupying trenches which a week ago were in the possession of the Germans.

Although the Germans can be expected to attempt to reinforce their line there is not a single high military official here who believes that they will be able to do so. The sending into action of the crack Bavarian army was the Kaiser's trump card and it failed to take the much wanted trick. The Bavarians have lost enormous numbers in killed, wounded and captured. They fought with great dash and stubbornness and gained early advantages but the action of the Belgians in cutting the dykes and flooding their trenches disheartened them and this was followed up by a series of desperate bayonet charges on the part of the British Indian troops.

Report Lille Evacuated

The German lines of communication are already threatened. Reports from several sources say that the Germans have been forced to evacuate Lille and retreat to the eastward. While there is as yet no official confirmation it is generally believed. If true, it must inevitably be followed by the retirement of the Germans who are holding the line from Lille to Arras. The Germans generally have retired from the sea coast in Belgium.

It is the intention of the French government unless something unforeseen develops, to return to Paris about Nov. 20.

BERG IS DIRECTOR OF PHILHARMONIC

There will be a rehearsal of the orchestra tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the W. B. U. hall.

FRANTIC EFFORT BY INSURANCE PEOPLE

Letter Urges "Last Broad-side" Against Proposed Constitutional Amend-ments

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31.—Desperate appeals in behalf of an association of stock fire companies, including the greater part of the total admitted to Wisconsin, capitalized at over $80,000,000, represented by state and general agents in the Wisconsin Field Men's club, and a letter of President George C. Markham of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, adding the weight of $310,000,000 of assets, characterize the closing of the campaign on the proposed constitutional amendments to permit the legislature to say what forms of insurance may be established by the state. With the former is inclosed a sample ballot with questions 3 and 9 marked prominently. "Kill this." The letter follows: "October 26th, 1914.

"To Insurance Agents:— "Just one more 'Broadside' against the proposed insurance amend-ments. To those agents who have done their duty and who will keep on with the fight until the polls close, we express our thanks. To those who have been inactive thus far we appeal once more to get busy, and will thank you in advance if you will do your full share toward defeating these amendments.

"United we stand, divided we fall, so it is up to you to do the personal work with the voters in your community.

"Here are a few sample ballots. Use them effectively. You can get more here for the asking. Remember the Official Ballot will be printed on pink paper. Your slogan then should be VOTE NO on Amend-ments THREE AND NINE.

"Don't overlook that you can do good work at the polls on the day of election.

"Yours very truly, "H. J. ZECHLIN, Secretary."

CLUB MEMBERSHIP CAUSE OF ASSAULT

Jeweler Helfach in Fistic Encounter with Attorney C. H. Schweizer This Morning

A warrant for the arrest of William Helfach, charging him with assault and battery, was obtained this morning by Attorney Charles H. Schweizer of the law firm of Schweizer & McConnell.

The assault arose over an application for membership in the Married Folks' club by Mr. Helfach, which was rejected. Mr. Helfach held Mr. Schweizer personally responsible. Mr. Schweizer, while he does not seek to evade his part in the incident, says it was a case in which a present member had declared he would withdraw if the application went through, and that several members were opposed and voted against the application. He said that he had incurred the particular displeasure of Helfach because he frankly admitted his stand in the matter.

The assault occurred near the steps of the La Crosse Trust company. The case will be heard before County Judge John Brindley Monday.

Twenty-eight new motorcycles have been ordered for the police department of Los Angeles, Cal. With a membership of twenty-four new motorcycle club has been formed at Charleston, S. C.

GARDNER HEAD OF WESTERN TEACHERS

Vernon County School Superintendent Elected by Members of Western Wisconsin Association

H. L. Gardner, superintendent of the schools of Vernon county, was this morning elected president of the Western Wisconsin Teachers' association, in session at the normal school.

F. C. Bray was elected vice president. George E. Sanford, West Salem, was elected secretary and treasurer. A. H. Sanford, La Crosse normal school; Robert Lohrie, Arcadia, and Miss Lena Heldeman, La Crosse, were chosen as directors.

A ballot box placed in the hall at the opening of the first session gave all in attendance at any of the meetings an opportunity to vote. The box was opened this morning.

Although many teachers from distant points left for their homes last night and early this morning, the attendance in the auditorium this morning did not show a decrease. Many local people were present.

Opposes Social Center M. C. Potter, superintendent of the public schools of Milwaukee talked on "A Social Institution," showing the relation which should exist between the home and the school.

He pictured the home as being the foundation of society, and the school room as an equally important place. "Contrary to the views of many, I am of the belief," he said, "that the social center, which is a thing being pushed forward now, is a detriment to the young person. I would rather see the home made the social center."

Mr. Potter expressed his belief in the ability of the teacher to guide the child. He cited one instance, where a Milwaukee school teacher leaves the school room to secure positions for her pupils.

W. H. Sanders, a member of the faculty of the La Crosse normal school, addressed the audience this morning on "Teaching and Using the Dictionary."

"When upon a recent examination of the pupils of the normal school here," he said, "I found that a large majority of them were not familiar with the use of the dictionary, and did not study and refer to it. I was astonished, and I have come to the conclusion that this study is an important one."

The Montessori system of teaching children was thoroughly explained by Professor Fletcher Harper, Swift, University of Minnesota.

The following musical program was given: "Finale to Fifth Symphony," La Crosse normal school orchestra, under the direction of Professor H. E. Cotton.

Songs, "Babyland," "The Gingerbread Man," and "What Robin Redbreast Told Me," by the training school children, under the direction of Miss Chandler. Violin duet, "Marche Triomphe," Mrs. Homer E. Cotton and Mr. Glen Halik.

MACK IN MOVIES

A most welcome addition to the fast growing galaxy of film stars is the eminent Irish character actor Andrew Mack. Mr. Mack has selected for his initial appearance in the silent drama his old favorite play, "The Ragged Earl," and as Gerald Fitzgerald Earl of Kildare, the ragged earl, he has achieved even a greater success before the eye of the camera than he did formerly before the eyes of the thousands of legitimate theatergoers. For pure clean comedy drama of the highest order nothing can equal Mr. Mack's production, "The Ragged Earl." This masterpiece will be presented Monday and Tuesday at the Casino theater.

The Real Secret of Healing Rupture

To successfully co-operate with Nature in the work of healing, the supporting device must be so constructed that the rupture retaining part overlaps and draws together the breached opening instead of pressing directly into it.

The trusses of today are sadly lacking in this quality. They nearly all give that direct pressure into the opening, which can not help but enlarge it, making it that much harder to retain the bowel later on, resulting in uncontrollable rupture with serious complications.

The Schilling Rupture Lock was invented to overcome just such faults. It is made to comply with Nature's laws and reach the objective point by the safest and shortest possible route. That it has succeeded is best told by the thousands who are now singing its praises in every corner of our land. This is the Rupture Lock that you get on a 30 Day Trial.

RUPTURE Is a handicap. If you don't realize it now you will sooner or later. It never gets well of itself, but gets worse from time to time. It will eventually unfit you for work and life's battles. It positively grows dangerous—think of the hundreds of people that yearly sacrifice their lives to strangulation.

The past has proven that the old-fashioned antiquated truss and appliance won't help you—it can't. Its construction is all wrong. A new star of hope has arisen for the ruptured—a natural outcome from the deficiencies of the past. There is hope, joy and comfort awaiting you.

The "Schilling Rupture Lock" is a wonderful invention for rupture—the outcome of years of study, hard work and diligent research. It is away from the old lines of truss construction, and holds the rupture exactly the way Nature intends, so that she may heal the opening without interference.

HUNT STRONG FOR CLERK OF COURT

Canvass Shows He is Strong Among Businessmen Regardless of Political Affiliations

A canvass of the local political situation as to the County tickets indicates that the outcome may be a close one. It also indicates that considerable independence will be shown at the polls in voting for County officers. For instance, Clint W. Hunt, in addition to the Labor Journal endorsement, appears to have a large following among the business and professional men, regardless of political affiliations. There appears to be a feeling that his appointment to deputy at the time of the death of C. C. Hamilton was made upon the recommendation of the Circuit Judge and in the hopes that his election might follow. Mr. Hunt is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court, which are largely technical and his election is generally conceded.

URGES OPENING OF COTTON EXCHANGES

Will Cause England to Buy Staple and Reduce U. S. Debt Abroad Says British Financier

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—"Open the cotton exchanges," Sir George Payne, Great Britain's financial envoy to the United States, declared today in an exclusive statement to the United Press, "and our spinners in England will begin buying cotton in such quantities that it will take but little time to settle this exchange problem." The amount of cotton our mills will buy will go far towards reducing the debt which this country owes to England at the present time.

"The point is that our spinners, and even those in this country, cannot change their methods in a day. They are not accustomed to buying cotton to spin, and taking all the risk of that cotton declining in value. They want to sell cotton short on the exchange at the same time they buy, so that they will not run any risk."

"Something ought to be done about the big debt which this country owes England. I would not have it all shipped in gold."

"There is another reason for not desiring all of the gold shipped which an actual adjustment of the exchange problem might show to be necessary," continued Sir George. "Your exports to England are going ahead. Even at the low price being paid for cotton, and even with the small quantity of cotton going abroad, there is no doubt that the balance against the United States is being reduced."

Cholera's Natural Home.
The marshy ground of the Ganges delta, with its vast masses of vegetation, decaying under a tropical sun, is the native home of the cholera. In that pestilential region the cholera and plague are found every year and all the year round. Every cholera epidemic which has desolated Europe, every visitation of the plague, is believed to have started from the mouth of the Ganges.

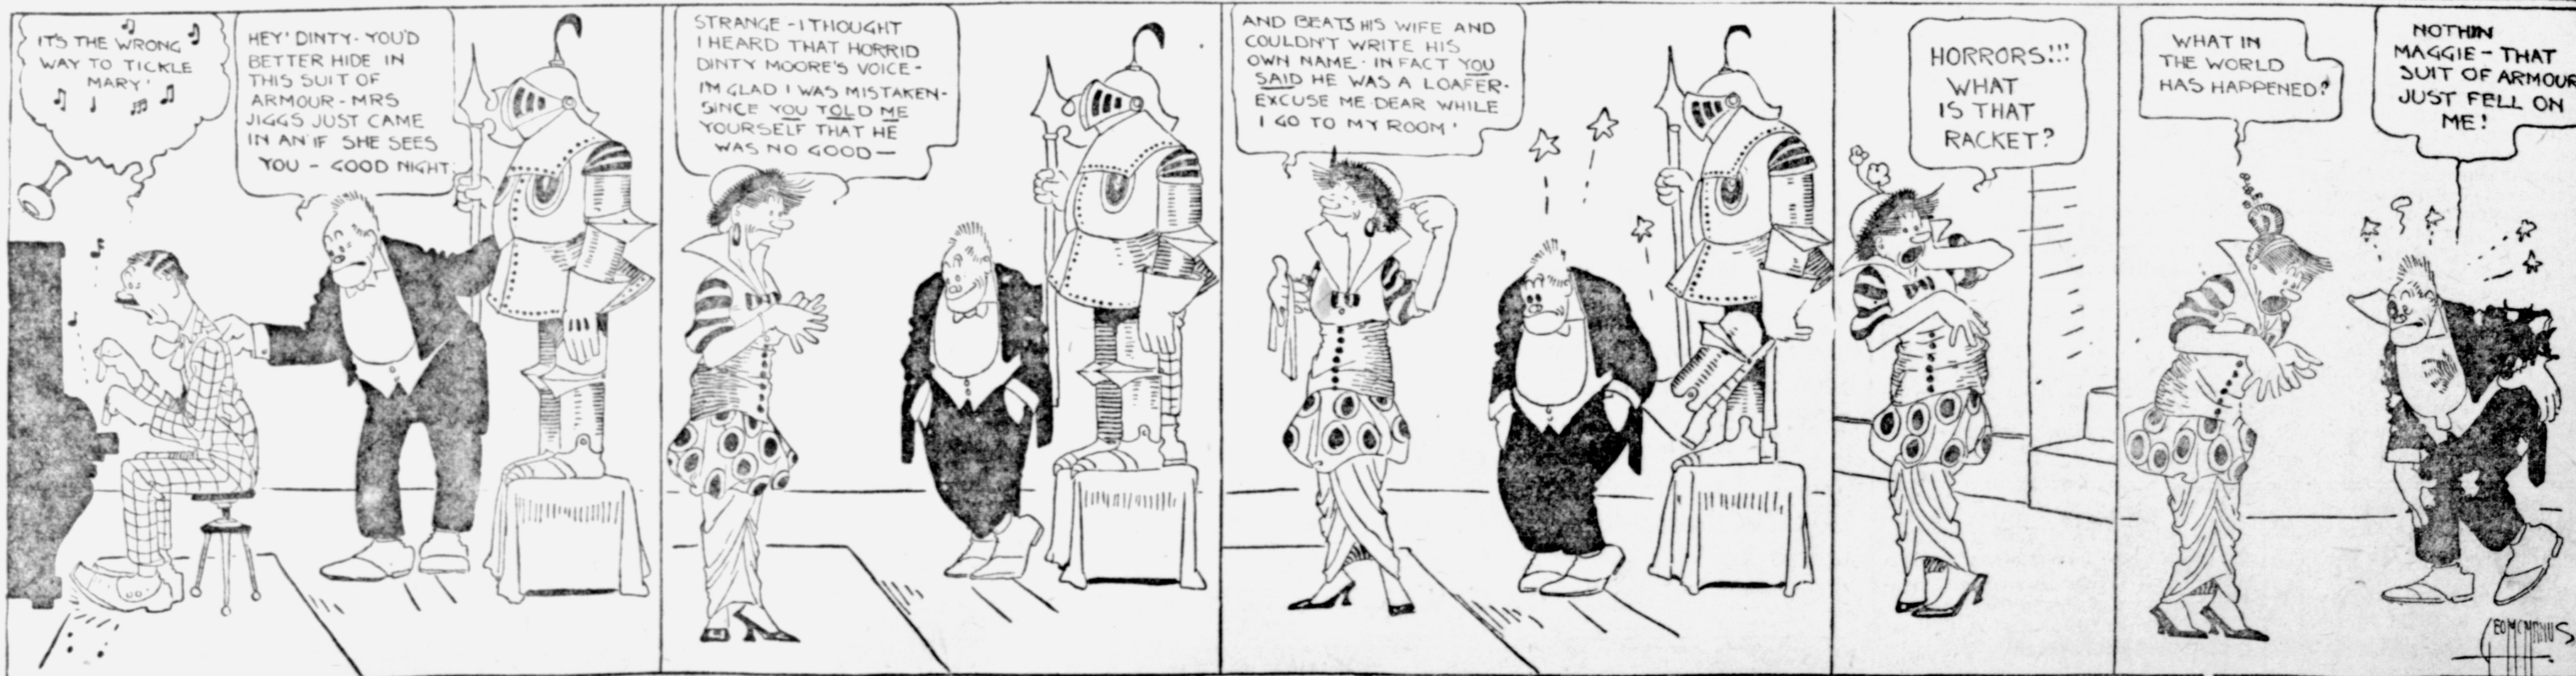

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctor pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Methodists go to Extremes Say Leaders

In Methodism in America at the present moment bishops express grave anxiety. They declare that fully 2,000,000 Methodists, about evenly divided between extremes, are doing little if anything, and that the little some are doing is hurting Methodism and the Christian cause, in general. Fully half the number, a round million some of the bishops admit, seem to be looking to the truths of Methodism and at little else. They are introducing the esthetic into worship, coupled with formalism and such rank unbelief. Especially is this so, say those worried leaders, in the large cities of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis.

At the other extreme is another in the other million who reside in the rural districts and who accept every part of the Bible, contradictions between Old and New Testament and all. They refuse to believe new things concerning the Gospel, and complain of others who come out with anything not stereotyped and old fashioned. They make the lives of Sunday school literature miserable by their complaints, and the bishops hardly know whether they are better or worse than the first named class.

Finally there are about 3,000,000 who are carrying burdens that all 5,000,000 are expected to carry. They are attending the churches for worship, and working in them and are giving ninety-nine per cent of the money for Methodist support and for benevolence. With these the bishops are trying to save the situation. Some new efforts are being put forth and others are soon to be launched. Care is being taken not to add further to their financial burdens, for many now carry twice their fair proportion. The bishops admit they have a big job ahead of them.

Wit of Sages, Folly of Clown.

Getting Prepared

Pat was seriously ill, the doctor announced his case hopeless and told his wife he would not live until morning. In the morning, however, Pat rallied and the first thing that greeted him was the delicious aroma of corned beef and cabbage. He begged his wife for just a little, but she flatly refused. He insisted, however, and continued to beg until his wife became exasperated and exclaimed: "No, you can't have any of that, it's for the wake."

No, He Should Attend the Funeral

It was the kindly custom in the village for the well-to-do inhabitants to make good any loss which the villagers might sustain through the death of any livestock. The retired manufacturer who had only recently settled in the village was ignorant of this laudable proceeding, and was considerably puzzled by the visit of a laborer's wife, who explained that she had lost a pig.

"Well, I ain't got it," explained the bewildered newcomer. "What I mean, sir, is, of course, the pig died," nervously explained the woman.

"Well, what do you want me to do?" cried the thoroughly exasperated man. "Send a wreath?"

trade into South America.

The new banking facilities there, and new transportation lines thither, will help them as they help merchants and manufacturers. Presbyterians now are thinking of asking their General Assembly to authorize a campaign to raise $500,000 with which to finance Christian work in South America and in Mexico and the Central American states. They declare at the outset that they do not purpose to go into these fields more largely, saying others have failed there, but because they know, after careful investigation, that many people there belong in no religious body. Presbyterians say that Episcopalians and Methodists in Brazil, the Argentine and Chile are doing much, and that it is their duty to co-operate.

To Acquaint Ministers With Practical Problems

Under leadership of the Presbyterian board of Home Missions protestants are taking up the task of making future ministers better acquainted with practical problems. A conference has just been held, attended by one hundred and fifty students from seminaries covering Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Reformed bodies. It is the first thing of its kind. Seminaries represented were all of the large ones in the East under control of these bodies. There are to follow similar conferences in the south and middle west, the southwest and the coast. Among the leaders in the plan, co-operating with the board named, is the Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, the new president of Princeton Seminary.

The things taken up are the immigrant, the industrial, and the city problems, together with underlying principles of social service in all forms. The purpose is to fit more adequately the pastors of the churches of the future in these lines. Especially prominent is also the question of scientific management of Christian workers, especially ministers. Efficient and informed rural ministers as well as city ones are aimed at also. Entering the new plan are seminaries of New England, New York, and Pennsylvania so far. All agencies having these lines of work are taking part and are co-operating.

Books of Prophecy Revive in Popularity

People everywhere are delving into books of prophecy. Volumes written for decades, are in demand at the libraries. People are talking it. The argument is heard in all directions that the world has reached the end of one important age. Some who scout the Second Advent and talk of the end of the world are now considering it seriously. A Sunday school class in Indianapolis has refused to hear anything but religious prophecy for several Sundays. A company of Cincinnati ministers have taken up its study. In Boston, Detroit and St. Louis, companies of women have put over other subjects to talk this one.

JACK FROST KILLED SECOND PEA CROP

Pea Vines and Dandelions Were Putting Out New Blossoms when Cold Wave Hit

RUSHFORD, Minn., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Until last Saturday night, Rushfordites had reason to believe that they were living in "the banana belt," as dandelions had commenced to bloom again and in the garden of L. A. Gullickson were several pea vines that were in full bloom, with a number of pods upon them, also. A vision of green peas for dinner was dispelled, however, when a killing frost visited this section Saturday night, followed by a slight flurry of snow last Monday morning.

J. G. Robertson took a trio of freshmen boys over to Lewiston last Monday where under the direction of Mr. Sandhammer they met a team of Lewiston scholars in a contest of corn judging. The Rushford team was chosen competitively, on the basis of the best work done here; the members of the team being Elvin Halvorson, John Cullane and Ambrose Layne. More contests of this nature would prove very desirable.

SKANDINAVIEN HAS ARTICLE ON BLAINE

Chicago Publication Prints
Verbatim Arguments of Thompson for Independent

"MONEY VERSUS THE PEOPLE"

This Is Local Man's View of Situation in Discussing Merits of the Candidates

Under the heading "The Election of Governor in Wisconsin," the Skandinavien, a Chicago publication of widespread circulation throughout Wisconsin and the Northwest, on Oct. 26, prints verbatim an article by Attorney James Thompson, La Crosse, endorsing the independent candidacy for John J. Blaine of Boscobel.

A translation of Mr. Thompson's article, which was given a place of prominence in the Skandinavien, follows:

"I desire to say a word in regard to the election of governor in Wisconsin. There are three candidates, E. L. Philipp and John C. Karel, both stalwarts, but only one progressive, namely, John J. Blaine. I am no politician. I am seeking no office. But I am interested in the government of our state, and desire earnestly that our people should vote correctly on this important question. It is an important question. It is now, as during the last years, the money power on the one hand, and the people on the other hand.

"The voters of Wisconsin are all familiar with the battle for people's rights and a people's government that we have gone through, Philipp and Karel have been and are stalwarts, reactionaries, one republican, the other democratic. Blaine has been and is a progressive republican, and he has voted at all times for the people and on the people's side.

Would Mislead Voters

"This alone should be sufficient to decide the question. But the stalwarts are again endeavoring to mislead the voters. In spite of the fact that they have often boasted that they, themselves, would not vote for a progressive, they now come to us and say that we must be regular, which, stripped of all trimmings, means in the ultimate analysis, that we should vote for anything and everything; the good as well as the bad, if it only carries the party label. This is neither honest nor patriotic. Nevertheless they call it party regularity. And they tell us that it is a virtue which atones for all sins. A remarkable doctrine; to vote against your own conscience, your own belief and your own convictions, only to be straight republican or straight democratic. We should pay more attention to the body of the party than to the heart within our bosom. It is a miserable thought. It was born and bred in the days when the railroads and the lumber companies owned the government at Madison. It is high time we put on our armor as citizens and, once and for all, kill that infamous doctrine so that it may never rise again. Let us do it. Let us be true to our principles.

Candidacy Proper

"The same law that gave Philipp and Karel their party nominations also gave Blaine his independent nomination. They are therefore, all nominated under and pursuant to the provisions of law. The primary and the independent are equal before the law. They are only two different methods of nominating candidates. It is therefore not wrong to vote for the independent. It is not only our privilege and our right, but it is our duty to do so when we find the conditions as they now are in Wisconsin.

"It is not a personal contest between the three candidates of which I spoke. It is the people's battle against the people's enemy; a battle between the people and the money power. Let us join with the people on the people's side and vote for John J. Blaine for governor.

Philipp Can Do Harm

"I have heard many stalwarts say that we should nevertheless vote for Philipp, because the Legislature will, without a doubt, again be progressive; and, in that event, Philipp can do no harm. What a wonderful recommendation! We are asked to vote for a man because he is powerless; because he can do no harm! Would any of you, whether you are farmers or businessmen, hire a man on so ridiculous a recommendation?

"Philipp has worked, in season and out of season, against the progressive rule of the people in Wisconsin. It was he and his stalwart supporters who assassinated the republican platform. Heretofore it has been a document full of life and hope and inspiration for popular rights and popular government. Now it is like an inscription on a tombstone; cold and hopeless, without life and with no plans or directions for the future. Furthermore, Mr. Philipp is sending out thousands of letters advising the people to vote against the initiative, the referendum and the recall. These letters themselves show where he stands. He is afraid to give the people these weapons of popular government which were heretofore explained in 'Skandinavien' by Mr. Herman Ekern. I believe with him that the people are fitted for self-government, and I also believe in the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

Much to Be Done

"I recently returned from a trip to Norway. Norway is a progressive country. It has advanced much further along this line than have we. It would be a shame and a disgrace should we, her descendants in America, not measure up to the same progressive spirit. There is only one progressive candidate for governor in Wisconsin during this campaign. Let us all join hands in supporting John J. Blaine. He is the people's candidate and will be the people's governor. Let us go to the polls and vote our convictions, and Blaine will be elected. It is our duty. Let us perform it manfully and patriotically.

SHORT AND UGLY WORDSTARTS RIOT IN PEACE MEET

President Villareal Calls
Villa's Personal Representative "Liar" and Trouble Starts

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 31.—Disorder again broke into the Mexican peace conference at Aguas Calientes last night, according to dispatches received from there today.

President Antonio I. Villareal interrupted an address by Colonel Gonzales Garza, personal representative of General Francisco Villa, calling the speaker a "liar," when he asserted that General Venustiano Carranza had violated the peace agreement of Torreon. A riot ensued but in view of the order forbidding delegates from carrying firearms into the convention the early restoration of order was possible. Colonel Garza was demanding the enforced resignation of Carranza when the incident occurred.

The next session of the convention will take up the question of Carranza's resignation. A resolution recently passed prevents adjournment until the question is definitely decided. Meantime General Villa continues his military activity. He has ordered all rolling stock and motive power of the railroads he controls concentrated at Cacatecas for the movement of troops. General Carranza also continues mobilizing below Aguas Calientes.

MONTANA FIGHT WON?

BUTTE Mont. Oct. 31.—"Our fight is already won. The polling of the vote is merely a formality. Montana will adopt equal suffrage at Tuesday's election by a plurality of 25,000. There cannot be a doubt of it."

Miss Jeanette Rankin, in charge of the Montana suffrage campaign, thus summed up the situation today for the United Press.

SUFFRAGISTS HOPEFUL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 31.—"Equal suffrage will win in Missouri next Tuesday," declared Mrs. Theodore William Schaffer, of the campaign committee. "We feel that we can count on the 40,000 men who signed our petition, to vote for the thirteenth amendment and perhaps a large percent will win at least one vote in addition for the cause."

Medieval Teutons.

The Teutonic races, spurred forward by migrating hordes in the rear, and thrown backward by trained armies upon the Roman frontiers, were compelled to bend the full force of their tribal organizations to warfare. Their youths were trained to a hardy, active life. Their courage and spirit were constantly fed by stories of exploits of the chase and the battlefield. They were proud of their stature and strength and were full of boasting and ferocity.—Engineering Magazine.

Make Him Sweat.

At the bedside of a patient who was a noted humorist five doctors were in consultation as to the best means to produce perspiration. The sick man overheard the discussion and, after listening for a few moments, he turned his head toward the group and whispered with a dry chuckle: "Just send in your bill, gentlemen, that will bring it on at once."

SWINDLERS TRY TO ROB FRENCH ON WAR CONTRACTS

French New York Consulate Starts on Trail of Alleged Widespread Fakery

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The French consulate started today on the trail of what is alleged to be a widespread attempt to swindle the French government through the big war contracts that are being let in this country.

Information as to the swindlers first reached the consulate through a director of the New York board of trade. The plan was for certain individuals to obtain samples of goods and prices by representing themselves as agents for the French government empowered to enter into big contracts. They then approached the French officials as alleged agents of the manufacturers.

Captain A. F. Martin, military attaché at the French consulate, said today that immediate steps would be taken to put these fake agents out of business.

Heredity in Vegetation.

Biologists are beginning to harness the forces of heredity the same as scientists are learning further how to harness the power of electricity. The results obtained by breeders, building up superior types of plant and animal life by practical application of the laws of heredity, represent in commercial terms alone more than a billion dollars added to the annual production of the United States, which is more than twenty-seven billion dollars.

His Original Sin.

An Indian who was a candidate for the ministry and was asked before the presbytery the important question, "What is original sin?" answered that he didn't know what other people's might be, but he rather thought that his was laziness. There are many who could truthfully give the same reply regarding religious activities.—The Christian Herald.

Right Living.

A good man may be rich and be good, and a bad man may be poor and be wicked. Poverty does not insure piety, nor does wealth prevent it. Happiness is a condition of the heart, a contented, tranquil, benign and hopeful mental state. This is attainable only by right living. He cannot be happy who fails to maintain a conscience void of offense toward God and man.

Fare of Ancient Romans.

Oysters were as highly prized at Rome as in modern London, and were brought by the wealthy from Britain to be fattened in the Lucrine lake. Of the birds the chief in esteem were fowls and peacocks, and fieldfares were as eagerly sought for in Rome as in the Athens of Aristophanes.

Grumps' Opportunity.

Everything had gone wrong with Grumps that morning, and as he strode gloomily down the suburban road on his way to the station he was simply aching for an outlet for his temper. "Good morning," cheerfully called out the man from The Elms, overtaking him. "Good morning—good afternoon—good evening. Now we've made a day of it!" snarled Grumps, viciously.

ZUPPKE CERTAIN OF BIG VICTORY

Illinois Mentor Believes He Can Turn the Tables on the Minnesota Jinxes

Before the game the coaches sized it up this way: Bob Zuppke, Illinois: "I admit that Illinois has not yet been up against a real formidable enemy this year. We conducted ourselves well so far. Minnesota will be the first real strong team we will have played and we will beat Minnesota. I'm just as confident as ever that Minnesota will be stopped." Doc Williams, Minnesota: "We are prepared to fight every inch of the way today. We are going to do it. We have whipped better teams than Illinois has this year and I can say without reservation that it will be a great battle."

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 31.—With Schultes, Gopher end, laid up, Minnesota fans were not letting their enthusiasm run away with them as to their probability of defeating Illinois this afternoon. The Illinois who accompanied Zuppke's warriors here however, without reservation say they will take away the big end of the score, which would be the first time they successfully stated that since 1898, when they defeated Minnesota 11 to 0. Of eight games played Minnesota has taken seven, the 1898 contest being the only exception. In that time, the Gophers have piled up 141 scores against 25 by the Illinois. Open plays will be the feature of the game, it is generally admitted. It is rumored that Bob Zuppke has several open plays in cold storage, kept there for the Gophers.

LEVINSKY BEATS FRITTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Although outweighed fifteen pounds, Battling Levinsky had an easy time last night defeating Sailor Fritts. Levinsky had Fritts all but out in the tenth round. Plans are now under way to match Levinsky with Jess Willard, the Kansas heavyweight who is being boosted as an opponent for Jack Johnson.

MAYOR SORENSON ROLLS FIRST BALL

City Father Bowls First Set in Game Between the Gunds and Eagles for City Title

EAGLES WIN CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

Winona Stars Defeat Marvels and Later Beat the Eagles by a Small Margin

Mayor Ori J. Sorensen rolled the ball last night that formally opened the new Lotus alleys to the public. The mayor, in a short speech, congratulated the bowling enthusiasts of the city on having such a fine set of alleys. He characterized bowling as one of the best winter sports and advocated a wider participation in the pastime.

The alleys, owned by Mique Malloy, former La Crosse league ball player and now scout for the Chicago Federals, are among the finest in the country, having nothing but the latest equipment. They will be in charge of Harry Tracy.

By defeating the Gunds in three straight games with a margin of 155 pins, the Eagles, north side champions, won the 1914 championship of the city. The match was to have been rolled off early last spring.

Ferdinand Roth of the Eagles scored the best average for the evening with a total of 514 pins in the three games. His partner, Voves, followed him closely with 510. H. Afeldt of the Gunds was high man with a mark of 197 in the last game. Voves was second with 190.

The visiting Winona Stars defeated the 11stman Marvels in three straight games by a total of 208 pins. The second game was the closest of the match, the Winonans winning out by but 20 pins. Wittenberg of the Marvels started, making a total of 556 for the three games. Klage of the Stars missed the mark by but two pins. High score for the match went to Mickelstad of the Marvels. The big man rolled 211 in the last game. Hammernik and Bilgen of the Stars rolled 203 and 200 respectively.

In the final match between the Eagles and the Stars, the Stars won by the small margin of 69 pins. Only two games were rolled, the Stars taking both.

MADISON IN A BLAZE OF RED

The Cardinal of the School Decorates the City Streets on Eve of Most Important Game of Year

OLBRICH AT MASS MEETING

Captain Keeler, "Red" Parker, Coach Juneau and Others Speak at Monster Gathering

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The eve of homecoming in anticipation of the big game has painted Madison red from sole to scalp. The college town is from an aeronautical viewpoint nothing but a scarlet blur on the northern zone. Three hundred wild and woolly sophomores armed with kerosene torches last night led a procession of a thousand or more excited rooters around the downtown district with the University regimental band puffing gloriously on the old classics, "Hot Time" and "Cheer, Cheer, the Gang's All Here," until the proverbial cows came home.

At the windup at the armory several thousand students and alumni crowded into the famous structure to listen to oratory as disseminated by such persons as Attorney "Mike" Olbrich, manager of the Illinois campaign, who presided at the meeting; Carl Russell Fish, Prof. Cool, Pat Downey, "Red" Parker, the first and only cheer leader, Coach Juneau and the respectable Captain "Tubby" Keeler.

Attorney Olbrich cancelled a long row of engagements in order to be with the boys for the mass meeting. The outlook is much rosier than a week ago and Chicago is due for one of the tightest contests in its successful football history. Muck, the 300 pound linesman, will be back in his place and "Boots" Weimar is already slated for a full game's worth of duty if he broken dist doesn't give way. Quarterback Helms and the Wisconsin line are feared by "Old Man" Stagg.

Camp Randall was the scene of the most important game in the west this season when Wisconsin and Chicago—recognized as two of the strongest teams in the conference—clashed in their annual battle at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

With a promise of idea football weather the attendance—estimated to be near 16,000—was expected to be the largest in the history of the game at Wisconsin. Last night Madison streets were crowded with thousands of Wisconsin's alumni, who had returned for the game.

WESTERN HOPES BATTLE HARVARD

Yost's Michigan Machine in Grind with Haughton's Proteges at Cambridge

BETTING FAVORS THE EASTERNERS

Odds Are 10 to 4 that the Crimson Will Come Out Victorious; Michigan Outweighs Rivals

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for the United Press.)
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 31.—For the first time in nineteen years Michigan lines up this afternoon on Soldiers' field against Harvard. In 1895 Michigan fought the Crimson eleven almost to a standstill and Harvard was unfortunate to get away with the game by the short margin of fourteen. All the dope was that Harvard would win handily, but that only a wide open, hurry up attack by the Yost eleven would give them a score. The betting favored Harvard ten to four, despite Coach Haughton's last minute decision not to play the speedy Mahan at half unless he should actually be needed. However, there was some money placed by the enthusiasts who followed their favorites from Michigan.

Among the westerners there is constant talk of a typical Yost surprise, but it was admitted even by the most frenzied Ann Arborite that to win, Hughtit, the western quarterback, whose leg is still weak, must last through the game and that the western invaders must get the jump and keep it.

As to weight Michigan has a slight edge on Harvard. Michigan's average is 179; Harvard's 178. The average weight in Michigan's line is 188; the Harvard average forward is 183. Only in the back field has Harvard the advantage in beef with an average of 169 to Michigan's 163.

The weather today was ideal for the players. A nipping east wind from out Boston harbor put a frosty touch in the air that promised anything but complete comfort for the 30,000 to 35,000 who are expected to jam the stadium.

Today's game is the fourth between the same teams. Besides in the 1895 contest, Harvard defeated Michigan 4 to 0 in 1881 and 3 to 0 in 1883.

The game is to start at 2:45.

MANY BIG GAMES ON BLOCK TODAY

Wisconsin-Chicago and Illinois-Minnesota Games in West Hold Attention of Western Football

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Semi-finals were on today in the battle for the western conference football title with crisp, cool weather, built for gridiron purposes, overspreading most of the middle west.

Chicago and Wisconsin were to clash at Madison this afternoon before one of the greatest crowds that has gathered in the Badger camp for several years. Stagg's eleven was generally picked to win and eliminate the Badgers from the title fight.

Illinois' powerful scoring machine encountered a dark horse at Minneapolis. Minnesota's strength this year is not known but the dope gave the Illinois the best of it and made it look probable that Chicago and Illinois will meet in the finals for the conference championship.

Indiana took on Miami at Bloomington in an unimportant contest and the other conference schools were idle. Outside conference circles the Notre Dame-Haskell Indian scrap and the Nebraska-Ames affair at Lincoln cut no inconsiderable ice.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31.—With Yale out to avenge last year's defeat when they met Colgate today, Coach Hinkley planned on sending a team of veterans against the Hamilton men. Scovil will run the team at quarterback and Knowles, Leore and Ainsworth will be in the back field. Brann and Stillman have been selected to start the game at the two end positions.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—A greatly shaken up team from the one which went down before Cornell will face Vermont this afternoon. Booth, at guard and Sprague at tackle are two of the new men. Bailey has been shifted from tackle to end. Vermont, a heavy team, is feared by Brown.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Carlisle will be handicapped by a heavy field for the game with Syracuse this afternoon. The Indians will also be outweighed in practically every position.

Killed by Runaway Barrel.
A runaway barrel of beer killed a woman in Glasgow the other day. A carter was unloading a lorry when a beer barrel slipped and rolled down a steep incline, where it fell down a staircase on which were four people. A woman was knocked down and killed instantly and three other people were injured.
